

Fire Safety Reform Order

(CABLE DAY)

The RR(FS)O is the most significant change in fire safety legislation affecting everyone involved in designing, constructing and occupying commercial buildings. In future, specification of the right fire performance products will be crucial, with no room for cutting corners or taking calculated risks. So when it comes to specifying cable choose Firetuf® from Draka with complete confidence. There's no better fire performance cable available. To find out more about the new legislation with regard to its impact on fire performance cables call Draka on 01332 345431.
